

5th

JERASS-ISSA International Forum

How should social studies connect with society outside the classroom?

Sunday, October 9, 2022
2:00pm-4:30pm JST

Online (Zoom) Free Admission

Social studies education cannot be completed within the classroom. Engaging with society constitutes an important part of citizenship education. What kinds of engagements are possible? What kinds of engagements have been created during the recent COVID-19 pandemic, when it was difficult to make practical connections outside the classroom? We would like to share initiatives from different countries and discuss future perspectives.

Presenters

Eric King-Man Chong (The Education University of Hong Kong)
Seung-Yun Lee (Tongmyong University)
Kihachiro Sakai (Minami Kyushu University)

Discussant

Toshinori Kuwabara (Okayama University)

Coordinators

Hidekazu Yamada (Okayama University)
Noboru Tanaka (Gifu University)

Language: English

Scan the QR code to register or click the link below.

<https://forms.gle/D9WH3wvuKH6tHtwc8>

Application Deadline: October 3

Applicants will receive the link/URL for the Zoom via email around October 6.

Host: Japanese Educational Research Association for the Social Studies (JERASS)
Co-Host: International Social Studies Association (ISSA)

Contact : Hidekazu Yamada (Okayama University) hiyamada@okayama-u.ac.jp